DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

1. The amendment to the claims received on September 17, 2008 canceled all previously pending claims (claims 1-34) and added new claims 35-70.

Claims 35-70 are currently pending and under consideration.

Applicants have requested to switch inventions after RCE. The request has been granted by the examiner of record.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 35-36, 39-41, and 43, drawn to an isolated host cell comprising two vectors wherein one vector comprises a variant of a WT bacteriophage coat protein wherein the variant comprises additions and the other vector comprises a coding sequence for a polypeptide, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1.
 - II. Claims 37-38, 42, and 44, drawn to an isolated host cell comprising two vectors wherein one vector comprises a truncated WT bacteriophage coat protein, classified in class 435, subclass 252.1.
 - III. Claims 37-38, 42, 44, drawn to an isolated host cell comprising two vectors wherein one vector comprises a WT bacteriophage coat protein, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - IV. Claims 45-70, drawn to an isolated host cell comprising a vector comprising a variant of a WT bacteriophage coat protein wherein the variant comprises additions and another coding sequence for a polypeptide, classified in class 536, subclass 23.53.

3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

A. Inventions I, II, III, and IV are directed to related products. The related inventions are distinct if: (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. For example, Groups I and IV require a variant of a WT bacteriophage coat protein comprising additions, while Group II requires a truncated WT bacteriophage coat protein and Group III requires a WT bacteriophage coat protein. In addition, Group I requires two vectors and Group IV requires a single vector. Additionally, for Group I, one vector comprises a bacteriophage coat protein variant while another vector comprises a coding sequence for a polypeptide wherein for Group IV, a single vector comprises both the bacteriophage coat protein variant and a coding sequence for another polypeptide. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

4. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

Art Unit: 1639

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include

(i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

6. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1639

7. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

8. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
